

Buried under Bidford

June 2007 – February 2008

Warwickshire County Council is pleased to introduce a new community project: 'Buried under Bidford'. The project will take place in and around Bidford on Avon and will give people the chance to experience some hands-on archaeology and learn more about the heritage of the Bidford area.

What can you expect to see between now and February 2008?

- fieldwalking events to learn more about the archaeology of the surrounding area
- an exhibition created by local people to celebrate Bidford's history
- an archaeological comic for school children
- training sessions on how to use documentary sources and how to identify archaeological objects.
- A community "event" in the Autumn

Staff at Warwickshire Museum are waiting to hear from you!
